TOMORROW STATE IS 100 YEARS OLD

INTERESTING DATA PERTAINING TO THE EARLY HISTORY.

1ST CONSTITUTION 1820

President Monroe Proclaimed Missouri Admitted to the Union of States on Aug. 10, 1821.

While August 10 is generally regarded as Missouri's birthday, and is the date around which will center the most imposing of the celebrations of the state's centenary, July 19, 1820, was a very important natal day, being the 100th anniversary of the adoption of the constitution which marked the ending of the territorial form of government, which had existed.

From 1803 to the beginning of the second war with England in 1812, Missouri had been only an unchartered part of the mighty nebulous area bought by Thomas Jefferson from Napoleon. When the state's constitution was adopted the state had only a few hundred more than 56,000 white population, 10,220 of the 66,586 people within its borders were slaves.

These few thousand residents occupied straggling settlements chiefly along the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. This population has multiplied to practically 3,500,000, and the state has become an imperial commonwealth in more senses than the fervidoratory of the enthusiast. Statistical tabulations usually make uninteresting reading, but those compilations which trace the growth of this profoundest pride to all loyal Missourians.

And Missourians are conspicuously prideful. Their unswerving Americanism is not surpassed by that of any other state in the Union. They are unhyphenated in a most exemplary degree. Though in its poulation are included representatives of virtually every country in the world, yet it is preponderantly not only "native American," but so far as its foreign elements are concerned, it is appliedly American to an almost remarkable extent.

The principal celebration of the centennial will take place at the state fair at Sedalia, and while all the days will be big days, the biggest of all the big days will be Wednesday, August 10, the date that Missouri became a member of the Union of States.

We give some data pertaining to our state:

Missouri was admitted as a territory June 4, 1812.

Delegates to frame a state constitution were elected in May 1820; it adjourned July 19, 1820. It did not have to be ratified by a vote of the people.

William Henry Harrison, afterwards the 9th president of the United States, was the first territorial governor and served one year, until 1805.

June 4, 1812, Missouri was organized into a territory, with a governor and general assembly of 13 representatives. Met in St. Louis June 12, 1812. Wm. C. Carr was speaker.

Jan. 8, 1818, John Scott, territorial delegate from Missouri, presented in the lower house of congress a petition asking that Missouri be admitted as a state.

The first legislature of the state was composed of 14 senators and 43 representatives. It met in St. Louis, Sept. 19, 1820. It fixed St. Charles as the capital where it met until 1826, when it was removed to Jefferson City.

August 10, 1821, a copy of the act of the Missouri legislature was deliver-

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN REFUSES TO BUILD ROAD

Heavy Expense Necessary for Change Near Parnell Is Not Justified Says Letter.

At a conference between the county court and officials of the Chicago, Great Western Railroad held on July 22, efforts were made to get a new road under a railroad bridge near Parnell. In a letter received today the railroad company notified the court that they do not feel justified in going to the heavy expense of putting in this road under a grade crossing. They also stated:

"The present road cannot be considered dangerous, as there is a good view in both directions. To put this road under our bridge would make a very sharp turn in the road and during high water the road would be under water, so that it would never be satisfactory."

BUNCHED HITS GIVE WHITE STARS EDGE OVER BOLCKOW

Maryville Players Overcome Early Lead of Opponents in Game Played Sunday.

While other baseball teams in the county were staging weird travesties on the national pastime during the weekend, the Maryville White Stars and Polckow were putting on a good exhibition at Bolckow, the White Stars winning, 6-5.

Bolckow had all the best of it for six innings, scoring a run in the second and two more in the third, but in their part of the sixth, the Maryville batters drove across two runs, following with four more in the next inning. Bolckow came back with another run in the seventh, and made a determined effort to win in the eighth but fell one run short.

Scott led off with a hit in the White Stars' big inning. Hits by Mays and C. Still followed, Scott scoring. M. Still cleared the bases with a triple, but was himself caught at home. Pierpoint scored the winning run on Kegin's hit.

M. Still, pitching for the White Stars allowed the Bolckow batters only five hits and struck out ten, while Dugan gave the White Stars ten hits and retired nine on strikes.

The White Stars will play again at Bolckow on August 28. They will play their first home game next Sunday when they will meet Ravenwood in a return game. The first clash between these two teams resulted in a victory for the White Stars in ten innings.

The line up for Sunday's game was:

White Stars: Mays, c; M. Still, p; Scott, ss; Woodard, 1b; Conley, 2b; C. Still, 3b; Kegin, lf; Pierpoint, cf; Monroe. rf, Bolckow: Duke, c; Dugan, p; Price Messick, Cundiff, Duke, Carter, Davis and Davison.

"BROADWAY JONES" A BIG ATTRACTION

SIDE-SPLITTING FARCE AT CHAUTAUQUA TONIGHT.

GONDOLIERS TOMORROW

"Farmer" Jones, Greatest American Wrestler, Gives Lecture Tomorrow Afternoon.

This Afternoon.

David D. Vaughan, "The Present Unrest. What? Why?"

Tonight.

"Broadway Jones," the best American farce of the last decade, by Keighley's Broadway Players.

Tomorrow.

9:00 a. m.—Junior Town.

2:30 p. m.—Prelude, Soloists from The Gondoliers. Lecture and demonstrations, "Health and Efficiency," "Farmer" Burns.

8:00 p. m.—Concert, The Gondoliers, directed by Arthur Dunham.

A circus is mighty tough competition for a chautauqua to meet, but chautauqua has just the attraction tonight to meet that or any other competition. It is "Broadway Jones," called by the New York Sun "the best American comedy of the season if not of the last decade." It is presented by William J. Keighley and a company of Broadway players.

Laugh, laugh, laugh! You check pour crouches and worries at the gate—they're excess baggage, say the press notices where the farce has been given.

The leading actor and Mrs. Keighley arrived in Maryville in their automobile, in which they are making their tour. The other members of the cast came by train this morning.

Tomorrow's program includes "Farmer" Burns and the Gondoliers. The former will lecture in the afternoon with a prelude by soloists from the Gondoliers, and the full company of Gondoliers will give an elaborate musical program in the evening.

In the spring of 1889, a rugged, middle-west man of the pioneer type made a trip to Chicago in charge of two car loads of hogs.

His ticket was arranged for a ten day stop-over so after seeing the hogs safely unloaded he started out to see the sights that naturally arract a country visitor in a city.

A sign attracted his eye which read as follows:

"Jack Carkeek and Evan Lewis, the Strangler, at the Olympic Theater will meet all comers—$25 to anyone staying fifteen minutes, or $2.00 per minute after the first seven minutes. No limit to time—nobody barred."

That night, Martin Burns, simple, plain country youth, unhonored, unsung with a modest renown for wrestling in his own neighborhood, became "Farmer" Burns, wrestler with his name big-typed broadcast over the land. Attired in overalls, with a modesty to a fault, the big clean fellow had earned the respect and nick-name from the crowd, "Farmer" Burns.

That was the beginning of the athletic career of "Farmer" Burns. Now he stands as the "greatest exponent of wrestling that ever lived." At the age of sixty, critics rate him possessor of the "most marvelous and perfect physique of any man of his age in the world". He was not only world's heavyweight champion wrestler. He has trained seven world's champions.

On Chautauqua "Farmer" Burns will discuss and demonstrate "Health and Efficiency," doing and saying some of the most startling things you ever saw or heard.

MUSICIANS AND TOWNSENDS BATTLE TO A TIE, 4-4

Twilight Fades, and Game is Called at the End of Fourth Inning.

The Musicians and the Townsends Twilight League teams fought to a 4-4 tie in a four inning game at the College yesterday afternoon. The game had to be called before the fifth inning on account of darkness.

Yehle, who pitched for the Musicians, was not up to form. The absence of Director C. D. Kutschinski from the line-up also handicaped the Windjammers. Castello, who pitched for the Townsends hurled good ball.

Farmer, left fielder for the Townsends hit the only two bagger in the game. In the second inning he hit a slow ball out over short and made second on a close decision.

The line-ups: Townsends; Wiles, c Castello, p; Smith, 1b; Donald, 2b; Stinson, ss; Pope, 3b; Johnson, rf; Murrin, cf; Farmer, lf. Musicians—Hogan, c; Yehle, p; Butherus, 1b; Buhler, 2b; Bovard, ss; Condon, 3b; Schumacher, rf; Froman, cf; Price, lf.

The tie game will be played off the last of this week or the first of next. Each team is confident of victory.

MUSIC LOVERS ARE GIVEN RARE TREAT

TRIO OF ARTISTS CHARM THEIR CHAUTAUQUA AUDIENCE

BROUGH LECTURE GOOD

Former Governor of Arkansas Tells Factors in America's World Supremacy

An appreciative audience heard Carmen Pascova, Florence Hardeman and Stewart Wille a trio of exceptional artists at Chautauqua last night. The supporting artists were surprisingly strong, and, in fact, Miss Hardeman was probably more popular with the audience than the striking Australian mezzo-soprano.

Miss Hardeman, playing on Ole Bull's rare old Amati violin, valued at $10,000, was encored many times. She and Mr. Wille appeared first, and it was nearly 9 o'clock before the audience was content to hear the singer.

Many old numbers were given and they seemed to be the favorites with the audience. Miss Hardeman's rendition of "Souvenir" was applauded time and again. Miss Pascova delighted her audience with Annie Laurie and "Comin' Through the Rye."

When Miss Pascova appeared for the first time she bore a beautiful boquet of roses, presented to her by the Chamber of Commerce. She said, "I just wanted to show you the beautiful flowers that the Chamber of Commerce presented to me. Aren't they lovely?"

"Nodaway County has been pointed out to me as the sleepiest county in Missouri," remarked Gov. Charles H. Brough in his speech at Chautauqua yesterday afternoon, "but I don't see how the county where more corn is grown and is more noted for its fine livestock than any county in the United States could be called sleepy.

"Missouri is noted for three things" said the governor, "The Big Red Apple, the Little Red Hen and the Much Read Bible.

"I come from Arkansas, the most cartooned state in the union and the only one mentioned in the Bible. For Jonah, you know, looked out of the Ark an' saw.

"Arkansas has the only diamond mine in the western hemisphere. Last year this mine was sold to the Morgan interests for $3,000,000.

The governor then recounted the factors in America's world leadership, the subject of his Chautauqua address.

"America is the most Christian nation on the globe," he pointed out. "Forty-three per cent of the population of the United States are members of some Christian church, either Protestant or Catholic. There are 20,000,000 children who attend Sunday School in this country.

The writers of this country are really men who are to be honored. They have done the things that put humor into life and made existance

MARYVILLE FEELS LURE OF SAWDUST

CROWDS FLOCK FROM MILES FOR SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS.

WAS LATE IN ARRIVING

Early Visitors Spend Time Looking Over Circus Day Bargains in Maryville Stores.

Red and yellow balloons will bob today; peanuts and red lemonade will have their innings; boys will lug water until small arms ache, for Maryville woke up this morning with the scent of sawdust in its nostrils.

It's circus day, and the medley of the white tops, calliopes hooting, bands blaring and elephants trumpeting, is in the air. Sells-Floto circus, on three trains, arrived over the Burlington railroad just after 11:30 today.

There were more early risers in Maryville this morning than in years. Scores of small boys, and some not so small, were disappointed when the circus failed to roll in at daybreak. A crowd from miles surrounding the city began pouring in long before noon, sure to miss none of the big parade.

By orders of Mayor Robinson cars were not permitted to park on Main street between the Linville hotel and Fourth Street today until after the parade or on east 4th street between Main and Market Streets. After the parade one line of cars was permitted to park on these streets. Not more than one row of cars will be permitted along these streets because of the traffic which will have to be handled during the circus crowd.

Mayor Robinson appointed the following special policemen to serve today: E. C. Moberly, Charles Partridge, Frank Partridge, Frank Fitz, J. H. Thorp, W. A. Burris, Clarence Phipps, Harry Chaney, J. Hankison, Frank Middleton, John Lockhart, Lewis Wood, —— Neil, B. W. Lemon, J. Wilson and J. Keefe.

There was a lot doing, of course, on the Harrison pasture, east of the Burlington tracks, from the time the first section came to a halt until the last red and gold cage rumbled down and was hauled to the circus lot. Fifteen acres of the pasture was soon covered with canvas.

Hundreds of people and animals with the circus had to be fed in Maryville today, besides the hundreds who came to town to watch the performances. The circus carries 700 people and 450 horses. There are ten elephants, four zebras, five camels, a sacred cow, hippopotamus and other animals which the circus men classify as "hay eating." Then there are the lions and tigers and hyenas and wolves and others that prefer meat.

An advance man was in town yesterday making preparations for feeding the little city that travels under the big white top. It will require five and a half tons of hay, 700 pounds of bran, eighty-five bushels of oats and four tons of straw for the hay eating animals.

The hippo likes his alfalfa hay now and then, but he must also have his special bran cake, prepared for him very carefully, as he is a discriminating gormand.

For the big family that puts up the tent and then performs acrobatic and funny stunts for the amusement of thousands, the advance man yesterday placed an order with a Maryville baker for 250 pounds of bread, made in loaves of special size and shape. He ordered 150 pies and 22 pounds of coffee, and estimated the amount of meat necessary as a beef and a half.

The crowds coming to town were attracted no less by bargains offered by Maryville merchants than by the lure of the circus. Prices were cut in many lines as added inducements to visitors from long distances Large posters inviting the people to visit the stores were distributed over the same territory as that billed by the circus.

Following the introductory pageantry, "The Birth of the Rainbow", this afternoon and tonight, the three rings and the two stages will be filled with the same acts that delighted Chicago and other large western and eastern cities—riding acts headed by the famous "Poodles" Hanneford and the Hanneford troupe; the Hobson and Hodgini families; aerial troupes, supporting the Codonas, Nelsons, Luckeys, Sweeneys, Newtons, Rowland, Hamiltons, La Pearls and the Lindsays; wire display, starring lovely Victoria and romping Berta Beeson; sensational acts, featuring the Steiners, the Hamido Arabs, the Barlow, the LaFleur, the Otawaga and the Delne troupes, and aerial, acrobatic comedy, animal equilibristic gymnastic acts by the dozens.

GOVERNOR SMALL CREATES "WAR BOARD" OF FIVE

Will Use Troops to Resist Arrest—May Mean Civil War in Illinois.

Springfield, Aug. 9.—Governor Len Small today launched a sensational offensive by creating a war board of five members to act as his military advisors. The order is unprecedented in the history of Illinois. The national guard was taken as a preliminary step to the use of the state troops to prevent the governor's arrest by Sangamon County officials.

The governor issued a statement explaining that the board was directed to investigate the condition of homeless war veterans throughout Illinois. The wording of the document is regarded here merely as a veil to the real motive. Small's friends admitted the order was significant and throughout the capital it was regarded as a war move.

30 STILL ARE MISSING IN THE ALASKA WRECK

Records Went Down and Total Number Lost Never May be Known

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 9.—Oil-soaked wreckage coating the treacheries of Blunt's Reef, 190 miles north of here, conceals the mystery of some thirty persons missing in the sinking of the coastwise steamer, Alaska Saturday night, from which seventeen bodies have been recovered.

Out of the total of 214 persons believed to have been aboard, 167 have been saved.

The records of the purser went down with the ship, and the exact loss of life may never be known, for checking thus far shows that several names did not appear on the company's list of passengers and crew, prepared at Portland, Ore., the city of departure.

The check thus far indicates that forty-seven may have perished.

At Eureka, Cal., forty miles from the wreck are seventeen bodies, fifteen of which have been identified as six passengers, including one woman and nine of the crew.

Meanwhile, along the rock coast, patrols continued a search for bodies.

In the hospitals at Eureka were many injured survivors.

James Young of Burlington Junction was in Maryville yesterday on business.

Miss Bernice Farrell of Burlington Junction was a Maryville visitor today.

PASCOVA TALKS ON NATIONAL FINANCES

SAYS THAT THE AMERICAN DOLLAR IS TOO HIGH.

BROUGH PRAISES TOWN

Applauds Work of Maryville State Teachers College, and Its New Head.

Chamber of Commerce members had a little Chautauqua program all their own at their luncheon last night, when they listened to talks by Carmen Pascova, Australian prima donna, and Charles H. Brough, the only governor ever elected in Arkansas without opposition.

"Australia and America have a great many things and a great many aims in common," said the singer. "We have the same ideals as you, and we have the same objects and the same policy of government. Another thing in common we have for you: Some day we will say, 'Hands across the sea, and let us guard our coasts.'"

More important than disarmament, more pressing than action on the Anglo-Japanese alliance, is the question of international exchange, she said. She took a subject little discussed in ordinary circles, but was given the closest attention.

Through adverse exchange, America is being made a hermit nation, declared the famous singer, whose father was financial advisor to the government in Australia for many years.

"The world is unable to buy from America because the dollar is too high. We in Australia are unable to buy from you in America. You worked up a splendid export trade during the war, and because your dollar is too high you lost it. Isn't that so?

"With almost sixty per cent of the world's gold in the United States and more coming in every day and very little going out, the dollar is the high est it has ever been.

"There is no lack of anything in the world today, but the lack of solvent customers.."

Miss Pascova also called attention to the efforts of Great Britian to gain control of the great oil fields of the world.

"England's power has been based on her marine not on naval supremacy," she said. "Her marine has been built up because she had cheap coal. Of late, however, there have been many strikes and labor troubles and now England is planning to equip all her vessels as oil burners."

It is by her supremacy in merchant marine that England has remained the financial clearing house of the world, it was pointed out.

The Chamber of Commerce liked its close-up of the prima donna. She was radiantly gracious.

Governor Brough, a finished orator, gave an after-dinner speech couched in beautiful language. He spoke of his former visit here and of former Maryville citizens now living in Arkansas. He urged a continuance of state loyalty and a joint allegiance to the national government.

The governor paid a glowing tribute to Uel W. Lamkin, president-elect of the State Teachers College, and to Dr. Fred Keller, who was his pupil while in the University of Arkansas. The record of the former as superintendent of public instruction in Missouri and more recently as director of rehabilitation, he said, made him confident that the Maryville State Teachers College "has much brighter days before it in the future than it has ever had in the past."

The governor, who is president of the United States Good Roads Association, congratulated Missouri for its good roads legislation and commended Maryville for its tourists camp in College Park.

Arthur Snowberger was a business visitor yesterday in Maryville.

The first Independence Day observed in the state, in St. Louis in 1811.

The first bank established in the Missouri territory was at St. Louis, in 1816.

The penitentiary was opened at Jefferson City in 1836. First warden, Lewis Bolton; first commitment, William Edson, for grand larceny; admitted March 8, 1836. First leasing of convict labor, four years, Feb. 15, 1839; Gordon & Burch, lessees.

The convention of 1861 declared all state offices vacant and chose Hamilton R. Gamble as provisional governor.

Missouri is 282 miles long, north to south; 335 in width. In area it covers 69, 415 miles, or over 40,000,000 acres. Its population in 1820 was 66,589; 1920 it was 3, 404,055. Its assessable wealth for 1921 taxes is 3¼ billions. Its population in 1830 was 140,455.

The first apportionment from the general revenue fund of the state was made in 1854 by John W. Henry, of Cooper county; amount apportioned, $172,000.

In 1820 was established the first Protestant Indian Mission, west of the Mississippi River; at Harmony, near the line of now Vernon and Bates county.

The first Indian tribes to have located in the state were the Missouries, Iowas and Poncas.

First court house in the state was erected in St. Louis in 1823.

State capitol at Jefferson City was destroyed by fire, Nov. 13, 1836; again Feb. 5, 1909.

On September 17, 1836, all that part of the state known as the Platte Purchase, was purchased from the Iowas, Sac and Fox Indians; consideration, 100 sections of land in Kansas, $7,500 in money and some minor considerations.

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Brings a Ray of Hope to Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any housecleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound it strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they ask me what made me strong I tell them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.' Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass. This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.

TALK ABOUT dime novels.
THEY SENT Jim down.
TO TEXAS to investigate.
SOME OIL wells there.
WHICH THEY might buy.
IF JIM said O.K.
AND HE was to report.
BY WIRE in secret code.
NOW—ENTER the villain.
A SLIPPERY crook.
GOT WIND of it.
AND TRAILED Jim down.
COPIED OFF his code.
AND BRIBED a boob.
IN THE telegraph branch.
SO THE crook could get.
THE EARLIEST word.
AND CORNER stock.
AND WORK a hold-up.
IT LOOKED like easy coin.
BUT JIM got wise.
AND THREW away his code.
AND WHEN he sent.
THE FINAL dope.
HE FOILED the villain.
THE MESSAGE just said.
"CHESTERFIELD."
AND HIS directors knew.
THAT ALL was well.
WITH THOSE oil wells.
FOR OIL men know.
THAT "CHESTERFIELD" means,
"THEY SATISFY."

YOU'LL know you've "struck it rich" when you discover Chesterfields. You'll say "they satisfy." A wonderful blend—the pick of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—put together in the Chesterfield way—that's why "they satisfy." And the Chesterfield blend can not be copied!

MANY STATES HAVE DECIDED FOR BONUS

$375,000,000 Converted to Aid World War Veterans in America

New York, Aug. 9.—State legislation converting more than $375,000,000 to the aid of World War veterans, has been passed or is waiting for popular referendum the Bank of America announced Sunday night at the conclusion of a nation-wide survey of the bonus situation. Veterans in fourteen states already are receiving cash bonuses totalling $184,000,000 and in eight more states legislation providing for cash bonuses of $191,000,000 now is pending.

Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi have failed to pass legislation authorizing in exemptions of benefits of some kind, they reported.

The bonuses range from $10 a month for service in a number of states, to $25 a month in North Dakota. Several states set maximum rates, ranging from $100 in New Jersey to $500 in Oregon.

North Dakota claims the honor of having been the first state to pay the bonus, and Illinois heads the list for amount, with $55,000,000 provides the bonus law passes a popular referendum.

Many states which have given cash bonuses also are providing aid of a practical nature. In fifteen states, aid is offered for vocational education and in California a bill has been adopted providing for vocational education of veterans' dependents.

Arizona, California, Oregon and South Dakota, provide aid in buying homes and in Oregon, the bonus is made optional with the privilege of borrowing up to $3,000 on real estate from the state.

In Connecticut, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, North Dakota, South Carolina, Texas and Wyoming, veterans are exempt from taxation. Sixteen states provide for civil preference in thecases of former service men.

Keeping Farm Help Satisfied

"I see you are keeping your hired man all right now, Ezra."

"Yep, keeping him all right,"

"He seems satisfied too, How'd you do it?"

"Did everything he asked me to. Let him work only four hours and eat with the family. He got to complaining of dull evenings so every night I give him the use of a car of his own, and the money to spend, to go to the movies in town."

"That ought to satisfy him."

"It didn't though. He complained of his room, and so I coaxed my son to trade rooms with him. Then he seemed more settled like."

"I notice you've cut off your whiskers, Ezra."

"Yeah. Some more of that hired man's notions."

"How's that?"

"He complained they tickled him every time I kissed him good night".

How Come?

"Father," asked the small boy, of an editor, "is Jupitor inhabited?"

"I don't know, my son," was the truthful answer.

"Father, are there any sea serpents?"

"I don't know, my son."

"Father, what does the North Pole look like?" But, alas, again the answer, "I don't know, my son."

At last in desperation, he inquired with withering emphasis:

"Father, how ever did you get to be an editor?"

"BROADWAY JONES" A BIG ATTRACTION

The Gondoliers present a dream realized. One of America's greatest musicians, given a free hand to build the program, select the artists and direct the concerts, has attained his ambition: a musical production supreme.

The Gondoliers are a most unusual combination of eleven singers and players, directed by Arthur Dunham and assisted by all that art can suggest in exquisite costuming, entrancing lighting effects and beautiful stage settings.

Of the Gondolier's program, the first scene will transport the audience to Venice; eyes and ears alike will be filled with the spirit of romance, of joyous song and the festive gaiety of a moonlight boating party. The second scene in the forest brings the wierd and haunting melodies of a gypsy camp which vie for interest with the latest and most popular of modern songs. In the third and last scene a group of American tourists in far away Italy, sing and play those songs that fill the hearts of travelers when they dream of the Homeland, its sacred altars, its firesides, and its glorious flag.

The voice section of The Gondoliers includes among other artists Ethel Benedict, Chicago soprano, who made a sensation with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in "Aida" at the Kalamazoo Festival. The Music News in reporting the event said in part, "Ethel Benedict was summoned at the eleventh hour, rushed into a late orchestra rehearsal with a previous knowledge of the arias, and with this slight preparation gave a performance of the 'Aida' part which was well nigh faultless in every respect, but no better match could have been chosen for the ensemble of parts. Her high work was especially smooth and brilliant, and her tone free and colorful throughout."

more endurable. Mark Twain, a native Missourian, has done more to make men healthy, wealthy, and wise than all of the race of polititions in in the country. Truly America is a ranking nations in letters."

While acknowledging the superiority of other nations in music, the Governor said, "In a few years, America will furnish a successor for Caruso. It is true that now we have to turn to Martinelli for a tenor of repute, as there are none of such rank in this country now, but I predict that in the near future a successor, and an American at that will be found.

"America is easily pre-eminent in sport. Thirteen times has England challenged the United States in a yachting contest and thirteen times has England lost. Where but in America could one find such persons as William T. Tilden and Babe Ruth?"

The United States is the only nation where the public men have the happy faculty of combining wit with wisdom and fun with profound philosophy, the governor observed. There is no nation in the globe where the statesmen know how to joke as they do in America.

In his only reference to politics Governor Brough said, "Since the League of Nations has been rejected, I believe it the duty of every good Democrat to support the President of the United States and make the disarmament convention a success.

In conclusion he said to the many children and young people in the audience: "Like Gardner and Hyde, I hope that there are young boys before men who will some day be governors and some who will become state senators, but to all let me say 'Remember thy creator in the days of thy youth'! The greatest thing in the world today is the American men and women that are to be.

A Question We Are Often Asked

is "What is the best time for setting out fruit and ornamental trees, shrubs, vines, etc?" Replying briefly we would say that depends somewhat on the season, but even more on the manner of planting and the care given afterward.

Apples, Cherries, Plums, Pears, Grapes, Blackberries, Currants, Gooseberries and almost all the Hardy Shrubs can be planted successfully late in the fall—if well set and mulched with straw, leaves, etc. (so the covering will not blow off), or covered almost entirely over by mounding loose earth up well over the branches in case of shrubs, grapes, etc., or in case of fruit trees say a foot deep of extra soil above the level of the surface as a temporary protection, to be removed in early spring. Unless this is done, it is safer and better to wait for early spring, having your ground in readiness before hand.

Peaches, Tender Shrubs, Roses, Evergreens, Raspberries, etc., should only be planted in the spring.

We will be prepared to take care of the wants of our patrons for both fall and spring planting, but we will not deliver stock out of season, and in all cases it is our first concern to furnish only stock properly grown, dug, and delivered at such time as will do the best for planters. If you can give it the extra attention required—and want it this fall—we will be glad to supply you; but if not, then we would much prefer to deliver it early next spring. In either case we are going to save you a nice margin in prices of stock as compared with what you have been paying in recent years.

Means Saving of $3.40 Per Acre to Every Ex-Service Man in Land Drawing.

Ex-service men in every part of the United States is expected to be interested in the news that the department of the interior has agreed to reduce the advance payment on water right applications in the Torrington, Wyo. land drawing from $5.10 per acre to $1.70.

This reduction is largely the result of efforts on the part of officials of the American Legion, working thru their respective representatives in the national capitol, who asked that the advance payment be thrown off and no charge made until after the drawing The department refused this but agreed to the above reduction. This places the initial cost within the reach of many more service men and will prove a big drawing card for the land drawing.

A Torrington paper says: The local legion post was advised this week by the reclamation service at Mitchell that blue prints of the land opened will be at hand by the first of next week. As soon thereafter as an electrotype can be made, maps will be printed and offered for sale by the local post.

Camels are made for Men who Think for Themselves

Such folks know real quality—and DEMAND it.

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTY AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

But QUALITY! Listen! That's CAMELS!
